

CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY, FULLERTON POLICE DEPARTMENT

Police Ride-Along Program

The Police Ride-Along Program is offered by the California State University Fullerton in cooperation with the Police Department. The program affords the observer the opportunity to tour the Police Department and to ride in a police patrol vehicle for approximately four hours. The observer will ride with an on-duty uniformed police officer assigned to patrolling the campus and its facilities.

I, _____ (age: ____), hereby apply to join the California State University Fullerton Police Department's Ride-Along Program. If accepted, I agree that I will ride in the Department's police vehicles as a guest of the University, at my solicitation, and for my benefit, and that I will furnish no consideration therefore either in services, money or otherwise, and at no time will I be a passenger for hire, but at all times will be only a guest of such vehicles. At no time will I be in the employ of the State of California or the California State University Fullerton campus, or nay of its police officers.

No promises has been made to me that I will be protected by the California State University Fullerton, the Police Department, or any of its Police Officers from any actions of other parties while I am riding in such Police vehicles. I hereby agree to hold the California State University Fullerton, the Police Department, or any of its Police Officers harmless from any such actions. I also promise not to interfere with any police officer during the performance or discharge of their duties, and promise that I will do my best to avoid harm while riding in such police vehicles, and will not attempt to aid any police officer without their request for such aid.

Note: Case Law, People v. Loomis, 156 CA 3rd, Supp. 1, requires that police reports list the name of all witnesses. As a participant in the Ride-Along Program, your signature is therefore a promise of your future cooperation.
